MERN Developer and AI/Ml mentor

At YouthIt, I work as both a MERN Stack Developer and AI/ML mentor, contributing to real-world projects and guiding aspiring developers.

One of my key contributions has been building the frontend for Panas, a robust exam management platform designed for Korean language consultancies. The system includes:

- Super Admin Dashboard for centralized control
- Institute and Exam Management tools
- Real-Time Proctoring features
- Automated Grading System with detailed analytics and performance tracking

Alongside development, I actively mentor students in MERN stack and AI/ML with Python, helping them bridge the gap between theory and real-world application through hands-on projects and personalized guidance.

Self-employed 2022

Freelance Web Developer

- Designed and developed custom websites and web applications for various clients. Focused on responsive design, performance optimization, and SEO best practices.
